

WINDWARD ASSOCIATION OF RETIRED MEN (WARM)

Congratulations. You've made it to retirement. Or you're getting close. Or you simply have one morning a week you might like to spend with a bunch of your neighbors for a breakfast of conversation, education and fellowship. If so, you are invited to attend WARM – the Windward Area Retired Men.

WARM is an informal organization that has been around almost as long as Windward itself. It was founded by some early homeowners as a way to get together, share ideas and discuss issues affecting our neighborhood, the City of Alpharetta and the surrounding area. It's a great way to network with neighbors, make new friends and generally spend a relaxing time among your peers.

the annual Windward Fourth of July Picnic. We support Meals on Wheels and the North Fulton Community Charities Food Bank with daily food deliveries. WARM is always looking for community service projects such as brush clearing, woodscape paths and on and on.

WARM is also a service organization. We are the driving force behind the annual Windward Veterans Salute – the Flags Across the Dam. WARM supplies the manpower for

But it's not all work. WARM members are always on the lookout for exciting outings. Be it a trip to a ballgame, a museum, an auto race or a fishin' hole, we are often on the go. Members love weekend getaways to places like the Smoky Mountains, Savannah, and Dollywood. A highlight of every year is the WARM/WOW Holiday Party. A chance to end the year at a coat and tie get-together with our wives and friends.

WARM members care about Windward and Alpharetta and have always been active participants in their development. We stay up on local and annual affairs through a series of guest speakers at the weekly breakfast. Local and national political leaders keep us up to speed on government activities. Local officials – police chiefs, fire captains, judges and civic planners are regular visitors. A guest speaker highlight is the semi-annual visit of our baseball insider. His pre-season preview of the upcoming season and fall predictions for the playoffs keep us the best-informed fans in town.

So come out and join us. Drop by for a visit and give WARM a try. Meetings start around 8 am every Monday at the Alpharetta Presbyterian Church. We think you'll leave well fed, well informed and anxious to come back.
